COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.

COMMUNICATION May be non-verbal or have very limited verbal abilities. May appear deaf; may not respond to verbal cues.-May repeat words or phrases in place of normal communications.-May have difficulty expressing needs;using gestures or points.
BEHAVIOR May have tantrums-display extreme distress for no apparent reason.-May exhibit inappropriate laughing or giggling. -May show no real fear of dangers. May have little or no eye contact. -May appear insensitive to pain. -May be sensitive to touch, sound or bright lights.-May exhibit self stimulating behaviors: hand flapping, finger flicking, body rocking.
IN CRIMINALJUSTICE SITUATIONS May not understand rights-May have difficulty remembering facts or details of offenses.-May become anxious in new situations.