

Parent/Adult Faith Formation Resources

Here are just a few great resources for helping parents and other adults in your parish enrich their faith and their understanding of Catholic teaching. Books can be obtained from your local Catholic bookstore. Videos are available directly from publisher or REO Media Center rental, newsletters, pamphlets, directly from publisher. For more resources, or for more information on any resource, call Rosemary Bleuher or Joyce Donahue at 815-727-6411

BOOKS

The Catechism of the Catholic Church (rev. 1997)

Every home should have one, both for adult formation and to help parents answer faith questions from children and youth.

Discovering Your Gifts, Vision and Call (Jacqueline McMakin and Rhonda Nary, Harper Collins Pub.)

Can be used individually or in small groups or on retreat. This book is designed to help people to discern God's call and to work together and within the larger community to spread the Kingdom.

Lost and Found Catholics (Christopher Bellillo, St. Anthony Messenger)

Speaks to generations of Catholics born just before and just after the Second Vatican Council.

Vatican II in Plain English (Bill Huebsch, Thomas More Publishers)

Clear, simple, attractive but accurate translations of the documents of the Second Vatican Council. Study guides available.

VIDEOS

Echoes of Faith (RCL/NCCL)

Originally designed for catechist formation, the knowledge tapes have been used with great success for parent meetings, RCIA, and general adult formation classes.

The Faithful Revolution (Video – Thomas More division of RCL)

Set of 6 videos on the Second Vatican Council and its meaning for Catholic life today.

The Sunday Mass Video Series (Liturgy Training Publications)

Five tape series explores the parts of the Mass through actual celebrations of liturgy from around the U.S.
